

William Hurst – Professor, Political Science

B.A.: University of Chicago, 1998; M.A.: University of Chicago, 1998; Ph.D.: University of California, Berkeley, 2005

Professor Hurst works on labor politics, contentious politics, political economy, and the politics of law and legal institutions, principally in China and Indonesia. He is currently completing a book manuscript on the comparative politics of law and legal institutions in China and Indonesia since 1949. For this work he has completed more than one year of fieldwork in each country since 2006. Before coming to Northwestern in 2013, he was a postdoctoral fellow at Oxford and an assistant professor at the Universities of Texas and Toronto. He has been a recipient of numerous grants and fellowships for research and study at universities in China, Indonesia and Taiwan. Representing a decade of extensive research is his 2018 publication of Ruling before the Law: The Politics of Legal Regimes in China and Indonesia by Cambridge University Press. Additionally, he is the editor of the

William Hurst – Professor, Political Science

B.A.: University of Chicago, 1998; M.A.: University of Chicago, 1998; Ph.D.: University of California, Berkeley, 2005

Professor Hurst works on labor politics, contentious politics, political economy, and the politics of law and legal institutions, principally in China and Indonesia. He is currently completing a book manuscript on the comparative politics of law and legal institutions in China and Indonesia since 1949. For this work he has completed more than one year of fieldwork in each country since 2006. Before coming to Northwestern in 2013, he was a postdoctoral fellow at Oxford and an assistant professor at the Universities of Texas and Toronto. He has been a recipient of numerous grants and fellowships for research and study at universities in China, Indonesia and Taiwan. Representing a decade of extensive research is his 2018 publication of Ruling before the Law: The Politics of Legal Regimes in China and Indonesia by Cambridge University Press. Additionally, he is the editor of the 2019 book, Urban Chinese Governance, Contention, and Social Control in the New Millenium. Professor Hurst is fluent in Mandarin Chinese and Indonesian/Malay.

Books

- Local Governance Innovation in China: Experimentation, Diffusion, and Defiance [Co-Edited with Jessica Teets] Abingdon: Routledge, 2014 - forthcoming.
- The Chinese Worker after Socialism Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2009 (paperback 2012).
- Laid-off Workers in a Workers' State: Unemployment with Chinese Characteristics [Co-Edited with Thomas Gold, Jaeyoun Won, and Qiang Li]. New York & Basingstoke: Palgrave-MacMillan, 2009

Select Publications

- “Reassessing Collective Petitioning in Rural China: Civic Engagement, Extra-State Violence, and Regional Variation” [with Mingxing Liu, Yongdong Liu, and Ran Tao] Comparative Politics, Volume 46, Number 4 (July 2014) - pp.459-482.
- “Indonesia’s Courts of Industrial Relations: Context, Structure, and a Look at Surabaya Cases” Indonesia, Volume 97 (April 2014) - pp.29-54.

- “Access to Justice in Post-Mao China: Assessing the Politics of Criminal and Administrative Law” [with Jonathan Kinkel] Journal of East Asian Studies, Volume 11, Number 3 (September-December 2011) - pp.467-499.
- “Politics, Society, and the Legal System in Contemporary China” in John Garrick (Ed.) Law, Wealth, and Power in China: Commercial Law Reforms in Context London: Routledge, 2011- pp.72-88.
- “Cases, Questions, and Comparison in Research on Contemporary Chinese Politics” in Allen Carlson, Mary Gallagher, Kenneth Lieberthal, & Melanie Manion (Eds.) Contemporary Chinese Politics: New Sources, Methods, and Field Strategies Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2010 - pp.162-177
- “Understanding Contentious Collective Action by Chinese Laid-off Workers: the Importance of Regional Political Economy” Studies in Comparative International Development, Volume 39, Number 2 (Summer 2004) – pp.94-120.